HUGHES SUSTAINS COSTA RICA'S SIDE IN PANAMA CLASH

Tells Erring Power Justice
White's Boundary Decision Is Final Word.

IS FRIENDLY, BUT FIRM
League of Nations Hint Is Ignored; U. S. Acts Under Monroe Doctrine.

MUST GIVE UP TERRITORY
No Notice Taken of Claimant's Suggestion of Indemnity for Miniature War.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York, March 17.—Secretary of State Hughes has notified the Government of Panama that the award given by Chief Justice White of the United States Supreme Court in the boundary dispute between Panama and Costa Rica must be accepted. The note which the Secretary of State sent to the Government of Panama last Tuesday was made public to-day. It amounts to an ultimatum to Panama, except that no time limit is included.

The note the Secretary of State has addressed to Panama marks the conclusion of the dispute between the two countries of Panama and Costa Rica resulting in a miniature war. There is little doubt that Panama will accept the injunction promptly.

Secretary Hughes says in his note that "this Government considers it to be an unavoidable duty to request the Government of Panama at once to take steps to confirm the boundary lines (as defined by the Loubet award and confirmed by Chief Justice White), by relinquishing its jurisdiction over the territory on the Costa Rican side of that line," and by transferring such jurisdiction to the Government of Costa Rica in an orderly manner.

The Secretary's note is in reply to that of the Government of Panama, in which the Panama Government declared Chief Justice White had exceeded his authority in making the award. The Government of Panama has remained in possession of the disputed territory.

Move Is Called Significant.

The State Department's action is regarded as especially significant, in view of the suggestion by President Warren that the League of Nations might be asked to arbitrate the dispute following the inquiry made by the league with the view of claiming jurisdiction.

Secretary Hughes has written a note which notifies Panama of the superior interest of the United States in this question, because of the Monroe Doctrine and because of its interest in the Panama Canal. It is notice to the League of Nations that the Government is not prepared to forego its duties or its responsibilities under the theory that the American interests predominate in the American Canal.

Another underlying feature of the Hughes note is the insistence that disputes among American countries be settled in an orderly manner with the assurance of justice, as outlined by him in his address of two days ago to visiting Latin American representatives. In his note Secretary Hughes calls attention to the fact that the Pacific coast boundary line was established by agreement by the two countries involved, and that the dispute as to the boundary on the Atlantic side should be submitted to Chief Justice White. The Chief Justice accordingly delimited the boundary, and the Secretary makes it clear that arbitration once invited must be accepted.

The Hughes note says the "award of the Chief Justice is definite and unimpaired and the Government has noted with deep concern the statement contained in the communication addressed by the Panama Minister for Foreign Affairs to the American Legation on March 8 to the effect that action taken by the Government of Panama in retreating its military forces from Costa Rica should not be interpreted in any case as an implied recognition of the White award, which the executive power, the Legislative Assembly and the people of Panama have jointly refused to accept since 1914, the year in which it was rendered."

No Basis for Disputing Award.
Continuing Mr. Hughes says this Government has been unable to find any ground for refusal to accept the award of the Chief Justice. He adds "This Government finds no basis for the contention that the arbitrator exceeded his powers, and his award, according to the express terms of the Porras-Anderson Treaty, became a part and constituent part of the high contracting parties' and both Panama and Costa Rica bound themselves to a faithful execution and waived all claims against it."

Mr. Hughes urges an immediate application of the White award and adds: "The Government of the United States therefore feels compelled to urge upon the Government of Panama, in the most friendly but most earnest manner, that it conclude without delay arrangements with the Government of Costa Rica for the appointment of a commission of engineers, provided for by the terms of Article VII of the Porras-Anderson Treaty, in order that the boundary line laid down by the decision of Chief Justice White may be physically laid down in a permanent manner and in accordance with the finding of the award."

"The Government of the United States," Secretary Hughes declares finally, "would view with apprehension a continuance of this dispute," and "this Government therefore deems it its duty to ask that the Government of Panama definitely indicate its intention to comply with the representations made to it by the Government of the United States."

Secretary Hughes' note ignores that part of the Panama note of March 8 which reads:

"Panama reserves the right of establishing and of making effective in the course of the mediation the responsibility which Costa Rica has incurred by reason of its unjustifiable attack and of demanding the obligation of indemnifying us for the damage caused and for the expenditures of the defensive expedition which by its fault we have seen the necessity of equipping and organizing."

Prisoners Are Returned.

GENEVA, March 17.—Panama has returned to Costa Rica the prisoners taken in the recent engagements between the two countries at Coto. The Secretary of the League of Nations to-day received notification to this effect from M. Garay, the Panamanian Minister of Foreign Relations.

COSTA RICA OIL DEAL SUSPECTED

Curiosity Aroused in Washington Concerning Purposes of Great Britain.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
Washington, D. C., March 17.

The huge oil concession, known as the Amory oil concession, which British interests are seeking to maintain in Costa Rica, is awakening curiosity and some suspicion in this country concerning the eventual purpose of the British Government.

Details of this concession which have reached Washington show it was obtained while supreme efforts were being made to push back the German line when the Germans appeared to be irresistibly ploughing their way to the Channel ports. It includes some 7,000 square miles of land.

The concession was granted by the Government of Federico Tinoco, which this Government had refused to recognize. Cable advice from San Jose, Costa Rica, received to-day says the Costa Rican Congress, by a vote of 24 to 10, has sustained the action of the Costa Rican Executive in refusing to recognize the validity of the Amory concession protocol.

The British Government has had a long time to consider the concession, and its effort to have the validity of the claim recognized.

This Government always has taken the position that concessions granted by an unrecognized Government in Latin American countries are illegal.

It is believed the activity of the British Government in procuring the oil concession may not only be part of the effort to corner the world's oil supply, but may have special significance.

The Lodge resolution passed by the Senate some years ago as an enlargement of the Monroe Doctrine made it clear that this country would regard with disfavor the establishment of strong bases in countries contiguous to the United States by European Powers. The huge Amory concession, together with other British possessions near Costa Rica, is believed, might come within the provisions of this resolution.

Consideration of British activities in Central America are concerned with reports that British interests have considered the possibility of negotiating for rights to construct an isthmian canal to compete with that at Panama on account of Britain's large interests in the Far East.

COSTA RICANS INDIGNANT.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, March 17.—

Opponents of the Amory Government of Costa Rica are sharply criticizing the administration for terminating hostilities between this country and Panama following intervention by the United States. Exciting scenes are occurring in Congress, many members of which are denouncing the Government as "favoring Panama and endangering the independence of Costa Rica." The Government is making conciliatory replies to these criticisms and endeavoring to calm the storm.

Costa Rican interests in Panama have been placed in the hands of the Spanish Minister there. The Panamanian Government has repatriated many Costa Ricans who were taken prisoners during the recent fighting and has sent them to Puerto Limon, United States warships are reported to be watching the Costa Rican and Panamanian coasts.

MAYORS PLANNING TO SAVE DAYLIGHT

Conference Suggests Enactment of Ordinances by Up-State Cities.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York, March 17.

Mayors of the important cities of the State agreed to-day to act together in adopting municipal ordinances establishing uniform daylight saving rules between New York and Buffalo. The added hour of daylight will be saved to some fifty cities in spite of the repeal of the State law by the Legislature.

It is planned to have all the cities enact the same daylight saving ordinance as adopted in New York and Mount Vernon. The repeal bill gave cities the right to enact their own ordinances, and William P. Capes, secretary of the Mayors' conference, said that if all of the cities select the same time the plan would be much more effective than if different ordinances were enacted.

The conference enacted a resolution, calling on all cities contemplating daylight saving ordinances to base them on the Edger-Ackerman bill, introduced in the last Congress which will be put in again this year. Mr. Capes said that New York and Mount Vernon already had done this, that all the Westchester county cities, Buffalo and Albany had ordinances pending and he believed 90 per cent. of the cities of the State would follow suit.

In anticipation of the adoption of the scheme, the New York Central Railroad has agreed to revise its schedules. The uniform time for setting ahead the clocks is to be the last Sunday in April, and the daylight saving period is to continue until the last Sunday in September.

The Mayors' conference decided to ask the Legislature either to postpone repeal of the personal tax law or have enforcement of the repeal bill put off until 1922. The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Jackson, and is part of the scheme recommended by the Daylight Saving Committee. Secretary Capes said that repeal of the law at this time would seriously affect New York city and Buffalo, as it would deprive them of a large revenue in the midst of their budget making period. He estimates that the cities of the State will lose by cutting out the personal tax $2,000,000, all of which, except $250,000, is raised in New York city and Buffalo.

Arrangements were made for the annual meeting of the Mayors' conference in Elmira June 7, 8 and 9.

REELECT EUGENE MEYER JR.

Again Managing Director of War Finance Corporation.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Eugene Meyer, Jr., of New York, to-day was chosen managing director of the War Finance Corporation.

Mr. Meyer, who was managing director when he resigned from the corporation last May, was reelected on the motion of Angus W. McLean, who filled the position in the interim. Mr. McLean, however, remains as a director of the corporation.

SHOOTS WIFE THEN ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

Woman Had Planned to Return to Greece.

Mrs. Catherine Sidoris, 26 years old, was peeling potatoes for luncheon yesterday in the apartment of her friend, Mrs. Peter Segalas, 343 West Forty-third street. She was telling Mrs. Segalas that with the money she was about to earn at a new job sewing bedwork on waists she would soon be able to go back to her folks in Greece and be independent of the husband whose brutalities, she said, had forced her to leave him nearly a year ago.

As she spoke the husband, Louis Sidoris, 43 years old, an electrical worker employed by the Edison company in East Orange, burst into the room with a plea for her to live with him once more. She refused.

"There is only one thing to do then," he shouted, drawing a revolver. He fired six times, three bullets entering the wife's abdomen, one the right thigh, one her chest and one her back. Struck by the suddenness of the action, Mrs. Segalas watched Sidoris seize the knife his wife had been using. He rushed through the apartment to a mirror in the parlor, slashed his throat and jumped to the street, three flights below.

Children in Holy Cross parochial school, across the street, saw him fall. The nurse sent word to Mrs. Francis P. Duffy, rector of the church, and he hurried around the corner and administered the last rites to Mr. and Mrs. Sidoris. In the meantime Patrolmen Faby and Gaylor of the West Forty-seventh street station propped up Sidoris's head as he tried to scribble a confession of shooting his wife on a pad they held for him, but he lapsed into unconsciousness before he died. Both were removed to Bellevue Hospital. Sidoris died an hour later. Mrs. Sidoris was still in a serious condition last night.

LIBRARY SOLD FOR $4,300.

The first installment of the library of a New York collector sold yesterday afternoon at the Anderson Galleries for a total of $4,300. A handsome set of the Oxford edition of Bulwer-Lytton's novels brought $250 from Gabriel Wells, which was the highest bid of the afternoon. An edition of Grand Folio of Bulwer's "Camilla Humaine" sold to the same buyer for $112.50. The sale will conclude this afternoon.

GUSTAF LINDBERG ARRESTED.

TACOMA, March 17.—Gustaf Lindberg, capitalist and president of the Lindberg Grocery Company, was arrested this afternoon on seven indictments issued by the Grand Jury investigating the failure of the Scandinavian-American Bank in January.

BRILL BROTHERS

THE MALE PLUMAGE
• • • OF 1921 • • •

MODERATION is the vogue this year in Men's styles. Fashion decreed this, so of course we've abided by it; but we've also taken a big step to achieve a surprising moderation in prices as well.

The inbred smartness and custom excellence of these Brill suits for 1921 commend them at once to men of manner. They are indeed, as one man aptly put it, clothes of fine fettle for men of mettle.

Gracious blues and greys, fetching herringbones and an abundance of the season's favorite pencil stripes on rich soft backgrounds. All virgin wool fabrics, magnificently wrought by pedigreed craftsmen.

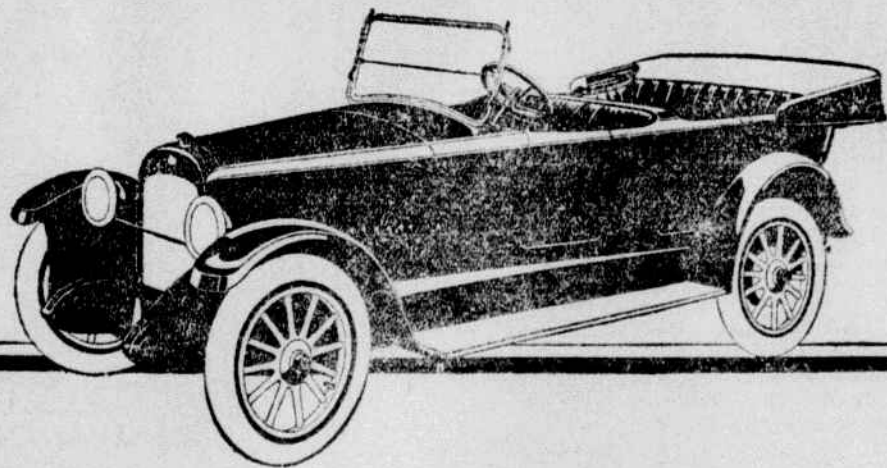

Prices are almost back to pre-war levels: $30 to $85.

Early Paris Openings

If you were in Paris now, you'd go to the openings—just to see what surprises the mannequins have up their little short sleeves for you, wouldn't you?

The next best thing to do is to buy this Early Paris Openings Number of Vogue.

In it is all the last breathless news from Paris . . . models from Poiret, Lanvin, Deauville, Lucile, Worth, Molyneux and other great houses—60 designs in all, the first conclusive examples of the fashions of spring.

Besides these frocks, suits, and wraps, there are delightful variants of the accessories of the mode that have made a success in Paris.

Have you seen, for instance, how with a turn of her pliable wrist the Parisienne has adapted the fringed and embroidered shawls of Spain to her own sophisticated personality? And have you seen the lace capes and the crepe capes and the capes that are everything except what we're used to? They, and other quaint, whimsical, and charming things are in this Vogue.

Of course this is the Brides' Number, too. And there isn't a thing of interest about a wedding that isn't in this Vogue—except the groom! Paris—this very minute!—is making up its mind about fashions. Make up yours with this EARLY PARIS OPENINGS number of
